Hero in Space

On this photo we can see that man who works on the space station, is flying into the space. He returns to the space station, because it is, probably, broken. That man helps his team - he saves lives of his team mates because if the space station is broken, people, who is there, can stay without the oxygen, and they will die soon. Each man or everyone will not help the command, doesn't worried about his life.

That man is a hero, who helps, saves team mates' lives, and that moment, doesn't worry about his expensive life. Everyone has to learn of that "space" man because everyone has to have heroism. If we will help another, we will can save some millions of people, who is in dangerous situations.

Let's do many kindness, peace - all our good things will help us in the future
